

Red China to Celebrate Anniversary

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Swept by a new purge, whipped up to revolutionary frenzies by its youth-fueled Red Guards, Communist China celebrates its 17th anniversary Saturday and the glory of the cult of Mao Tse-tung.
A million persons — among them the newly created Red Guards — are expected to parade through the Tien An Men Gate of Heavenly Peace Square before the 72-year-old Mao, a ritual carried out with flourishes since 1949.
The recent, Japanese correspondents in Peking report, will be on the Red Guards, boys and girls who have been designated by Mao to infuse new blood into his disputed ideological program for China. They have been doing so by violently shaking up old customs, old ideas, and the old religions.
The big festival commemorates Mao's proclamation of the People's Republic of China in 1949.
Normally it is the dramatic highlight of the year with its well-drilled, colorfully dressed marchers. This year's may be something of an anticlimax. Three enormous rallies already have been held in the great square since Aug. 15 with Mao present at all of them. Beside him has been China's new strong man: Defense Minister Lin Biao.
The prominent presence of Lin, described as Mao's "close comrade in arms," and the absence of some other party leaders will underscore the fact that 1966 has been an extraordinary year for China.

Missing will be Peking's Mayor Peng Chen, who cried from the rostrum last October, "Imperialism and its lackeys will not last very long!" Peng himself did not last very long after that.
Mao touched off the purge soon after his appearance last Oct. 1. Quitting Peking in November, he retired to South China and drew up another of his blueprints for remolding China's masses. He ordered the army to plunge deeper into work and farm projects, called on farmers to get into industrial production, on factory workers to do part-time farming, cut the university course from four to one or two years. It was his answer to those who had dared to criticize and oppose him.
Couple Married Some 70 Years
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — On Sept. 27, 1896, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schild stood before the altar and said their wedding vows in Winchester, Tenn.
If that doesn't hit you right off, let it be noted that the couple have been married 70 years.
Schild, 93, is a retired blacksmith. His wife is 90. They live with a daughter, Mrs. W.T. Jenkins. The couple has 6 children, 10 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Navy Short of Experienced Line Officers

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has a critical shortage of experienced line officers for surface ships and is looking for ways to interest them to stay in uniform longer, Navy Department officials said today.
Navy statistics show that the over-all retention rate among officers in the three Navy services — submarine, aviation and surface line — has fallen to a present low of 38.7 per cent, meaning barely one in three officers decides to stay on in the service.
For the noncareer officers the retention rate is 20.7 per cent. Officials report that it is even lower than that for surface line officers, although the Navy does not provide specific breakdowns.
The low retention rate has resulted in a shortage of 4,500 officers — about 43 per cent — among the commander, lieutenant commander and lieutenant ranks of the submarine and surface line services.
A Navy task force has been studying the retention problem for the past 20 months and recently reported to Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze that, among other things, "the surface line community is in critical shape."
Current manpower statistics, supplied on request, indicate that the Navy is meeting all of its officer requirements on an over-all basis despite the sharp shortage among the surface lines.
To make up for this shortage, the Navy now has about 2,500 more ensigns than authorized serving at sea.
"The Navy may be sailing at full strength quantitatively, but qualitatively most assuredly not," one Navy officer said. To solve its problems, he said, the Navy is "either putting junior grade officers in lieutenant's jobs or transferring men from one warfare specialty to another to try to make do with our total resources."

The Navy is now considering a series of retention-boosting plans, including proposals that would provide for added sea pay, on the job educational programs and more opportunities for family life.

LEGAL NOTICE

PROPOSED INITIATED ACT NO. 1

(Proposed by Petition of the People)

PETITION TO INITIATE A LEGISLATIVE ACT

TO: THE HONORABLE KERRY BRYANT, SECRETARY OF STATE, STATE OF ARKANSAS.

We, the undersigned legal voters of the State of Arkansas, respectfully propose the following Act, to-wit:

(Popular Name)

SCHOOL DISTRICT REORGANIZATION ACT

(Ballot Title)

AN ACT FOR THE PURPOSE OF DISSOLVING ON JUNE 1, 1967, ALL SCHOOL DISTRICTS WHICH HAVE LESS THAN FOUR HUNDRED (400) ENUMERATED STUDENTS ACCORDING TO THE LAST OFFICIAL SCHOOL ENUMERATION; PROVIDING FOR THE ANNEXATION OF THE TERRITORY OF SUCH DISSOLVED SCHOOL DISTRICTS; PROVIDING FOR APPEAL FROM ACTION OF THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION IN ANNEXING TERRITORY OF SUCH DISSOLVED SCHOOL DISTRICTS; PROVIDING FOR THE FUTURE OF ANY SCHOOL DISTRICT WITH LESS THAN FOUR HUNDRED (400) ENUMERANTS; AND AUTHORIZING THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO DEFINE "ISOLATED SCHOOLS" AND TO PROMULGATE RULES FOR ADMINISTERING SUPPLEMENTAL STATE FUNDS FOR THEIR OPERATION.

(Text of Initiated Act)

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS:

SECTION 1. On June 1, 1967, all school districts which had less than four hundred (400) enumerated students according to the last official school enumeration are hereby dissolved. In each county of the state, within ten (10) days thereafter, the County Board of Education shall develop and file with the State Board of Education a plan to annex the territory of such dissolved district or districts to another district or districts. The State Board of Education may approve, revise and approve, or reject and require the submission of another plan. With the approval of the State Board of Education the County Board shall forthwith carry out the annexation. If any County Board of Education fails to submit an approvable plan within ten (10) days after the dissolution, the State Board of Education shall make the required annexation.

SECTION 2. Appeals from the action of the County Board of Education in the annexation of territory shall be heard by the County Board of Education. The County Board of Education shall hear and decide such appeals within thirty (30) days after the filing of the appeal. The County Board of Education shall state its decision and the reasons therefor in writing and file the same with the State Board of Education. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of the notice of appeal the Secretary of the County Board of Education shall prepare, certify and file with the Circuit Clerk of the proper county the entire record of the case including a transcript of all testimony taken at the hearing if a transcript was made. Upon review of any board decision under this act the Circuit Judge shall sit without a jury and may hear oral arguments and receive written briefs but no new evidence may be introduced or offered in Circuit Court except to correct omissions or errors in the record. Such appeal cases shall be heard by the Circuit Court within twenty (20) days after the filing of the record with the Circuit Clerk and such cases shall have precedence over other cases pending in said court. Any party to the review proceedings, including the Board, may appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Circuit Court under rules of procedure applicable in other civil cases.

SECTION 3. No construction shall be given to any part of this Act which would result in impairing the obligations of any valid contract of any school district. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, all matters of reorganization and annexation of school districts undertaken under the provisions of this Act shall be made in accordance with existing laws.

SECTION 4. After the reorganization provided in Section 1 of this Act has been effected:

(a) any school district wherein the number of enumerants falls below four hundred (400) as reflected in two consecutive official school enumerations shall be dissolved and the territory of such district shall be annexed in the manner provided in Section 1 hereof; and

(b) no new district shall thereafter be formed with fewer than four hundred (400) enumerants.

SECTION 5. The State Board of Education is hereby authorized and directed to establish criteria for defining "isolated schools" and to promulgate rules and regulations for the administration of supplemental state funds to be allocated to school districts operating such "isolated schools".

SECTION 6. The provisions of this Act are severable, and if any part or provision hereof shall be void, the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining parts or provisions of the Act.

AND BY THIS, OUR PETITIONER, ORDER THAT THE SAME BE SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE OF SAID STATE TO THE END THAT THE SAME MAY BE ADOPTED, ENACTED OR REJECTED BY THE VOTE OF THE LEGAL VOTERS OF SAID STATE AT THE REGULAR GENERAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN SAID STATE ON THE 8TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1966, AND EACH OF US FOR HIMSELF SIGNED THIS PETITION. Airliner Falls, 18 Aboard Die

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dozens of investigators hunted for clues today in the mountain ravine into which an airliner crashed, killing all 18 persons aboard.
The West Coast Airlines DC9 went down Saturday night in the rugged terrain about 30 miles southeast of Portland.
It took 17 hours to find the wreckage and another three hours to find a way to it. The only way turned out to be by air. The forest was like a jungle. There were no trails. Only a helicopter could get in, landing in a mountain meadow a quarter-mile from the crash.
The impact came as the jet descended the western slope of the Cascade range.
The plane almost made it. It was down to the 4,000-foot level, and if it had not been for a 4,200-foot ridge, the plane could have glided into Portland Airport on a flight from Eugene, Ore., 100 miles to the south.
The first question for crash investigators is why the pilot, who was flying on instruments, apparently thought he was higher than 4,200 feet.
Officials said he reported he was 10 minutes out of Portland. Ground control gave him permission to drop from 14,000 feet. He was asked to report when he got to 12,000 feet, and in no case to go below 9,000 feet without reporting.
At that point the radar controller said the plane disappeared from the radar scope. That meant it crashed, but at the 4,000-foot level instead of the 12,000 or 9,000.
Edward S. Slattery Jr., Washington, D.C., spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Board, said it might be days, perhaps weeks, before answers would be found.

Opera to Get American Premiere

ROME (AP) — An opera based on Arthur Miller's "The View From the Bridge" will have its American premiere in Philadelphia next year, according to its composer, Renzo Rossellini.

Rossellini, 58, said Monday that he had reached an agreement in Monte Carlo last week with Aurelio Fabiani, general manager of the Philadelphia Lyric Opera Co. to present the production during the 1967-68 season at the Philadelphia Academy of Music.

Rossellini, a brother of film director Roberto Rossellini, will supervise the production. The opera has been performed in several countries.

THE TWO FACES OF DAD

Dear Helen: Talk about Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde—that's my ever-loving husband every time our daughter brings a boy home to meet him. From a sweet, easy-going, joking, lovable Pop, he changes to a sour scowler, who puts his paper one inch down from his eyes just long enough to snarl, "Humph!" to the introduction. Hostility and suspicion ooze from him.

If he is forced into conversation, the boy regrets it — a combination third degree and IQ test. And the poor fellow never measures up. He's always "gooseybird" or "leabod" or "flapbrain" when his name comes up at the dinner table.

Only boys my man faintly likes are those who no longer come around. Then it's "What happened to watsizname? He's a lot better than 'mushface' (current b.f.).

We all kid about "the two faces of Dad," and I think he's proud of his act. He says, "Keep 'em scared of you and they won't try any funny business with your daughter."

I worry that they won't even try to date her again, but it doesn't seem to stop the boys. Tell me, Helen, are they used to fathers who act like this?—T.N.

Dear T: According to my mail and my observations—yes! It's an unusual father who doesn't see his daughter's boy friend as a boob, a threat, a menace, or all three...and he almost always looks at him through green-colored glasses, though he won't admit it.

Funny thing: this changes after marriage, when the two often become good buddies. Don't ask me why, but be assured your daughter's husband will react likewise when the time comes.—H

MORE OF PADDLING HUSBANDS

Dear Helen: You told the 16-year-old bride whose husband spans her that if she acted like a wife instead of a child her husband would stop treating her like a daughter.

Well, I act as a wife should. I am a school teacher in my middle 20's, and I'm not spoiled or babyish. Yet I have this problem only it is much worse. Besides shouting and verbal abuse, my husband actually hits me, pushes me down, chokes me, or throws me across the room. This last month he has started spanking me. He says I must be punished when I misbehave. The beatings increase. I'm not THAT bad.

I don't tell people this because we are respected members of the community and I am considered an excellent teacher. I often wonder what the children in my classes would think if they could see my husband hitting me. They'd lose all respect for me. In the five years we have been married, I have been unable to put a stop to this. I've asked him to talk to a minister or counselor but he says I am at fault. I have tried hitting him back, but I get hit twice as hard.

Now we have a very young baby and this behavior must stop.—HOW

Dear How: You may be an excellent teacher, but you aren't acting as an adult when you allow this treatment. For your baby's sake as well as your own, tell your husband he must either see a counselor or talk to your lawyer! —H.

Dear Helen: I'm 53. H's 38. We love each other, have the same tastes. We don't think age matters unless you let it. Will our marriage work?—HOPING

Dear Hoping: Sorry, I'm a "non-prophet organization," but a 53-38 marriage has as much chance as any other kind, if it is based on mutual love and respect.—H.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-Television Writer
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Puckish Stan Freberg is feeling good these days. The reason: He has been banned again.

"Extremism in the pursuit of comedy is no vice," said Freberg, who wears the perennial air of a small-town kid who has just dumped a box of detergent in the city hall fountain.

Radio stations in San Francisco and elsewhere have put the thumbs-down on plays of a selection from the latest Freberg album on Capitol, "Freberg Underground." It features a fantasy called "Reagan meets Flackman," which the stations apparently consider too sensitive to play during the gubernatorial campaign in California.

The action features an actor turned politico, boldly identified as Ronnie Reagan, who is advised by his publicity man to shield his former connection with show business. But on a "Meet the Press" show Reagan gives the wrong answers to a questioner:

Q. What about the unrest at Berkeley?

A. As far back as "naughty but nice" and right up to "she's working her way through college," I had first-hand knowledge of student problems of one sort or another. I straightened out Betty Grable in that one. Of course it's important that a governor has a sense of humor, too. Did you catch me in "Bedtime for Bonzo"?

Q. These are violent times, Mr. Reagan. How are you equipped to handle a major crisis?

A. In "King's How" I lost both my legs! How's that for a crisis, lady?

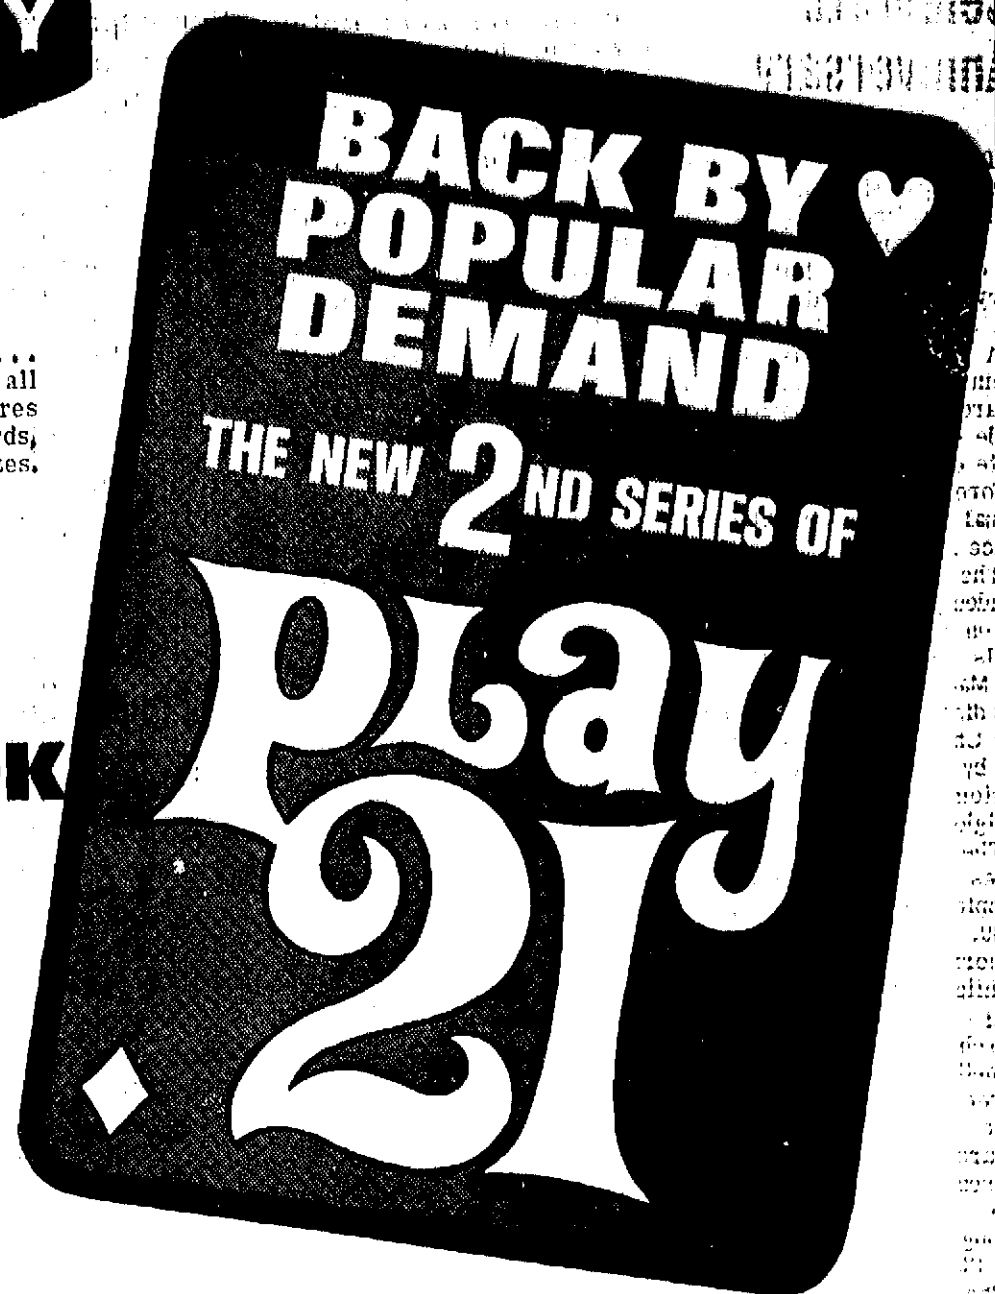

Reagan doesn't get all the lumps from Freberg, whose approach to the campaign is more of a sledge-hammer rather than a stiletto technique. He depicts incumbent Edmund G. Brown as an unsmiling drudge

Koufax Takes Dodgers to the Pennant

For Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers it was all downhill after the sixth inning. For the San Francisco Giants it was all down the drain after the third.

As he did on the next-to-last day of the season last year, the amazing Koufax pitched the Dodgers to the National League pennant, their second straight, scattering seven hits in a 6-3 victory over Philadelphia Sunday.

"It was all downhill for me after the sixth," the 30-year-old left-hander said amid a wild Dodger celebration after bringing his record to 27 victories, most in his career, against nine defeats.

The Giants, though, felt their hopes for a first-place tie sink in the third inning when the Dodgers exploded for three runs. Like everyone else in baseball, they knew all too well that Koufax rarely, if ever, loses with that great a lead.

They sat around at the airport in Pittsburgh, though, hoping that a rarity would occur. They had defeated the Pirates 7-3 in 11 innings and another Dodger defeat, following a 4-3 loss in the opener of the doubleheader with the Phillies would have kept them alive.

To force a playoff, they then would have to beat Cincinnati Monday in a make-up of a rained out game.

But when Koufax arrived at the bottom of the hill, the Giants started leaving for San Francisco instead of Cincinnati.

The Phillies tried to pull it out for the Giants, rallying for three runs in the ninth inning. But Koufax had been more concerned about the first inning when they put two men on with only one out.

"I would say the biggest pitch I had to make was to strike out Richie Allen in the first when I was in trouble," Koufax said.

After fanning Allen for the first of three times, Koufax retired Harvey Kuenn on a grounder, ending the threat.

Slightly more than two hours later, Koufax fanned Jack Brandt for his 10th strikeout, and the Dodgers had their sixth pennant in Walter Alston's 13-year reign.

Yerger Falls to Langston High 31-6

By JAMES HAMILTON
and JOSEPH WITHERSPOON
In Hammons Stadium here, Saturday night, October 1, the Yerger Tigers were again made grid victims as they were defeated by the Langston High Bulldogs of Hot Springs by a score of 31-6.

The Bulldogs started their dynamical rage in the second quarter as it was a battle of the defense in the first quarter and both teams were scoreless.

The Bulldogs first touchdown was a result of an interception by James Webber, who carried the ball 40 yds. for a touchdown. The P. A. T. was no good and the Bulldogs took the lead by a score of 6-0. With only 1 1/2 minutes left in the half the Bulldogs completed a 25 yd. pass which left them short of a touchdown by 13 yds. Jerry Pepper, the fullback, then took the ball in for a score. The P. A. T. was no good and the game went to the half with the Bulldogs leading by a score of 12-0.

After a n exchange of possessions, the Bulldogs received the ball and drove 62 yds. for a touchdown with the quarterback grinding out the last two (2) yds. on a quarterback sneak. Again the P. A. T. was no good and now the Bulldogs led 18-0.

The Bulldogs scored two more touchdowns during the third quarter with only one P.A.T. being good making the score 25-0.

The Yerger Tigers came to life in the fourth quarter as quarterback Johnnie Smith, completed a 20 yd pass to Milton Witherspoon which resulted in a touchdown. The P. A. T. was no good and now the score was 25-6 in favor of the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs scored another touchdown with the P.A.T. no good and the final score was the Bulldogs 31 and Yerger 6.

The leading rusher for the Tigers was Ernest Standokes with 5 carries for 58 yards.

Cardinals Cling to First Place

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The delayed take-off isn't part of Charlie Winner's game plan, but his St. Louis Cardinals are making the most of their 30-minute flights.

St. Louis struck for 24 points in the second half Sunday and continued its National Football League resurgence under new coach Winner with a 41-10 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles.

It was the fourth victory without a loss for the Cards, who lead the NFL's Eastern Division after a frustrating 5-9 finish last year.

In their four starts, the Cards have outscored their opponents 77-10 after intermission.

They had been outplayed by the Eagles in the first half Sunday but led 17-10 — thanks to an 86-yard punt return by rookie Johnny Roland.

Then Larry Wilson intercepted a pass and raced 91 yards for a touchdown. Jerry Stovall ran 18 yards to score with another pass theft. Charlie Johnson hit Billy Gambrell with a 12-yard scoring pitch and Jim Bakken kicked a 34-yard field goal as St. Louis turned the game into a rout.

Sunday's victory kept St. Louis one-half game in front of the Dallas Cowboys, who overpowered winless Atlanta 47-14 in a 3-0 mark.

Bart Starr fired touchdown bombs of 53 and 78 yards as Green Bay's Western Division leaders downed Detroit 23-14 for their fourth straight victory while Chicago edged Minnesota 13-10. Cleveland drubbed New York 28-7 and Washington topped Pittsburgh 24-10.

Los Angeles had whipped San Francisco 34-3 in a Friday night game.

The Cowboys, ahead only 17-14 in the third quarter, pulled away on Don Meredith's 49-yard touchdown pass to speedster Bob Hayes and linebacker Chuck Howley's 57-yard scoring drive with a recovered fumble.

Starr hit Mary Fleming with a short pass over the middle and the Packers' night end rambled 45 yards to complete the 53-yard scoring play. Starr then connected with Carroll Dale for a 78-yard payoff that boosted the Packers' first half margin to 17-0. Three field goals by Don

Crowd Greet Candidate Johnson Here

No Help From Negro Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Democratic (Negro) Voters Association will not support either of the two candidates for governor, president I. S. McClinton said Saturday. "Winthrop Rockefeller has not, so far as we can determine, made a single commitment to Negroes for board appointments or executive-type jobs for Negroes in state agencies," McClinton said. And Democrat Jim Johnson has said he will not seek the Negro vote, McClinton said.

Shoe Workers Sign Contract

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The International Boot and Shoe Workers Union, AFL-CIO, and representatives of International Shoe Co., of St. Louis, signed a new two-year contract Saturday calling for a 27-cent per hour wage increase and other fringe benefits. Company spokesmen said the contract affected 11,000 employees at 30 plants in Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois and Kentucky. The old contract expired at midnight Friday.

WORKING IN THE VACUUM OF SPACE is an ability astronauts must perfect if manned exploration flights are to be pursued successfully. To better understand complicating factors such as caused Gemini-11 astronaut Richard Gordon to become fatigued after only a few minutes of exertion outside his capsule, researchers are using a special altitude chamber capable of reproducing on earth the vacuum of space existing at altitudes up to 320,000 feet. Above, a spacesuited technician at Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., Sunnyvale, Calif., performs simple tasks—threading nuts, tightening bolts and connecting electrical cables—in one of a series of one-hour test runs in the chamber.

THE WELL CHILD

Call Doctor Fast if Child
Inhales Foreign Object

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

An object doesn't have to be edible to wind up in a child's mouth. Once in his mouth, he may swallow it or aspirate it into his windpipe. Smooth objects, such as coins, peach pits and buttons may cause discomfort as they travel down the esophagus but once they enter the stomach they have clear sailing and there is no need to worry about them.

If, on the other hand, a needle, straight pin, tack or open safety pin is swallowed, you should call a doctor at once.

The real hazard, however, is the inhalation of a foreign body. More than half of the victims of such an accident are under four. A child may be eating peanuts when an older brother tickles him. As he starts to laugh a nut lodges in his windpipe. Another child grabs a bead from his sister, pops it into his mouth and starts to run. As his sister gains on him he gets winded, takes a deep breath and the bead goes down the wrong way.

On Halloween a boy put some dry beans in his mouth to blow through a bean shooter. He inhaled one and it passed his windpipe and lodged in a bronchial tube. In a few days it absorbed moisture, swelled to twice its normal size and cut off the passage of air to a part of his lung. When it was finally removed it had sprouted and started to grow.

Before the bronchoscope 90 per cent of all persons who aspirated a foreign body died. Now the death rate is less than 1 per cent. The bronchoscope can locate many non-metallic foreign bodies (cherry stones, plastic bullets, food particles) that cannot be seen in an X ray.

Here are some rules for preventing choking accidents:

Don't use thumbtacks on a baby's crib.

Keep all safety pins closed when they are not being applied or removed and keep them out of reach of infants.

Don't feed a child raw carrots, crisp bacon, popcorn or nuts until he is five because, until his molars have come through, he can't chew them properly and may aspirate them.

Don't give a young child small marbles, buttons or coins to play with.

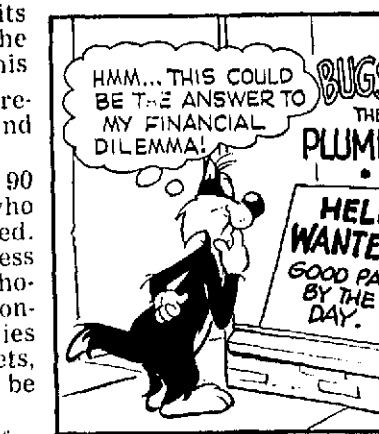

When preparing chicken salad or sandwiches, be sure all small bones are removed.

If a child (or adult) is choking don't whack him on the back or reach into his mouth to remove the foreign body; place him face down across a bed or chair and let his head hang down to facilitate coughing it out. Call a doctor.

South had lots of problem with today's hand. To start he did not know whether to open with a conservative one heart or a liberal two bid.

He settled for the conservative course but once his partner raised him to two hearts, South was through with conservatism. His two-spade bid was a start toward a possible grand slam. After all, North might hold the right kings for him. North's three-diamond bid showed strength but not the strength South was looking for and South settled for six.

South seemed lost. The jack of diamonds and South saw that even the small slam required considerable thought plus some amount of luck.

There appeared to be alternate lines of play. One would be to try the heart finesse. If that worked South's worries would be over. The other would be to strip the hand and try for an end play in spades.

South decided to try the second plan. He discarded spade on the ace of diamonds, ruffed dummy's other diamond, played his ace of hearts and ran off all the clubs.

West refused to ruff the last club but this did him no good. South threw him in with the king of trumps and West was end played.

East and West made the usual comments about luck but South had taken the line of play that was most likely to succeed. His play worked against the actual distribution. It would also have worked had the East and West hands been reversed or if either defender had started with the singleton king of trumps.

The finesse play would lose any time that West held the king of hearts or if East held all three trumps and West held the king of spades.

Inflation Big Issue, Says Hubert

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey puts "so-called inflation" and "the quality of extent of the administration's program" ahead of the Viet Nam war as top issues in the November congressional elections.

Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater agrees that Viet Nam will not be the issue. He says the increased cost of living and "morality — crime on the street" both will be more important.

But Rep. Melvin R. Laird said today President Johnson's conduct of the war is a major issue in the elections.

Laird, Wisconsin Republican who heads the House GOP Conference, said if the American people find Johnson's leadership of the war lacking "they will register this finding at the polls."

In remarks prepared for delivery in the House, Laird said that through extensive travels around the country he had identified four "great issues of 1966."

Besides Viet Nam, he said, the people are concerned about inflation, maintenance of the two-party system and what he called the steady growth of the federal system at the expense of state government.

In another statement, a former Air Force chief of staff, retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, said America's present strategy in Viet Nam is the "ultimate in military blindness."

He said in an article in the current issue of the magazine "U.S. News & World Report": "The popular philosophy that we can, by cautious and timid military tactics, keep the war from escalating into a larger conflict is the ultimate in military blindness. The only way to win a war is to escalate it one way or another above what the enemy can take. If we feel we can't win without unacceptable risk, we have no business fighting in the first place."

"We must wage this war in such a way as to win it as quickly as possible," he said.

The general said this means attacking every valuable target, using naval and air power, to destroy the enemy's economy and his will to wage war.

Goldwater and Goldwater appeared in separate interviews with ABC-TV on the first of a series of "Elections '66," the general saying he was pleased by the increase in support for Viet Nam, expressed his pleasure as an American that the President had taken the realization that the war was getting, not just from Goldwater, but also from his military staff people, was adequate light.

Discussing the Democratic presidential victory in 1964, said "the American people are aware of what the consequences would be of a Goldwater victory."

He said, "I don't believe they really felt that they could trust the security and fate of this nation in hands that might be irresponsible."

Russia Increases Wholesale Prices

MOSCOW (AP) — Wholesale prices of Soviet heavy industrial products will be increased an average of 11 to 12 per cent to stimulate production of higher quality goods, the Soviet news agency Tass said today.

Tass said the increases, to become effective next summer, are being prepared to conform with new principles of economic planning set out by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at a meeting of the Central Committee a year ago.

The new approach increases the importance of profits as a criterion of the efficiency of the national economy.

Plane Crash Proves Fatal

FREDERICKTOWN, Mo. (AP) — Belton Dunagan, 46, of Osceola, Ark., died Sunday of injuries received in a plane crash Sunday morning, the Missouri Highway Patrol said.

The Cessna Sky Wagon crashed in a field five miles southwest of here while attempting an emergency landing.

The pilot and owner of the plane, Charles Richard Kenna, 45, owner of a manufacturing plant in Osceola, was reported in satisfactory condition at Madison Memorial Hospital here.

UN to Have Hard Time Picking Head

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats know from hard experience that weeks of bargaining and compromise — along with possible aggravation of U.S.-Soviet relations — will precede agreement on a successor to Secretary-General U Thant.

The list of those mentioned for the post is not promising. Some have been ticked off as unqualified, while others are obviously unacceptable to all the big powers.

That is why the diplomats have been reluctant to begin the search until they are convinced that Thant will not reconsider his decision to step down at the end of the year.

The choice of a secretary-general involves a large element of chance, and the question in the minds of many is how long the United Nations can count on getting such men as Thant, Dag Hammarskjold and Trygve Lie.

Under the U.N. Charter the office of secretary-general is open to all. In practice many distinguished leaders are barred by unwritten law, tradition and the threat of a big power veto.

It has been accepted by now that the secretary-general must come from a small, nonaligned country and must be acceptable to all the big powers. This narrows the field to those who have either been relatively obscure or who have avoided involvement in major controversies.

As Lie himself tells it, "It was generally agreed that the secretary-general should not be an American because this would give too much to a single member nation. The United States itself took the view that an American should not be secretary-general."

The big powers decided each would have a representative in the "cabinet" of the secretary-general. This was put into practice by Lie, although he felt that this decision encroached on his own authority to select his assistants.

Some of the men eventually selected under this arrangement went on to establish themselves as international figures, although none was ever considered eligible to become head of the United Nations. These included Ralph B. Bunche, who won the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in negotiating the Palestine armistice in 1949; Paul G. Hoffman, head of the U.N. Development program; David Owen, British economist who has been with the United Nations since its beginning; and two Soviet members of the secretariat, Arkady A. Sobolev and Anatoly Dobrynin. Sobolev later returned as head of the Soviet U.N. Delegation; Dobrynin is now ambassador to Washington.

Except for the fact that they were representatives of big powers any one of this group might have been considered a logical choice for the post of secretary-general.

Thus the United Nations has had a Norwegian, a Swede and a Burmese as secretary-general. But the membership of the organization has undergone a major change since 1945. More than half its 119 members are Asian and African countries.

Names mentioned as Thant's possible successor have come from all parts of the world, but there may be a strong move to choose an African. One difficulty is that most of the African prospects are untried, controversial among the Africans themselves, or are too closely identified with one of the big powers. No strongly backed candidate has emerged.

Man Spends 40 Years in Prison

DETROIT (AP) — Forty years of prison life ended Tuesday for Roy Logan, 65.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan released Logan from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. He was given five years probation.

Logan asked for the probation because he wasn't sure of the life facing him outside.

Logan did not have a lawyer assigned to him until the first day of his trial, the judge said, and the attorney did not have time to prepare a defense.

Chargers in Win Over Miami 44-10

The book on Denver's Gary Kroner is that he is "not a good long kicker" and will have a "tough fight to hold his job." Somebody will have to write a new book.

In this case, the offending words come from the Broncos' very own press guide. Sunday Kroner surprised the journal's author, not to mention Coach Ray Malavasi, with four field goals. Two were from 46 yards out and the last of these gave the Broncos a 40-38 victory over Houston.

It was Denver's first victory of the AFL season and came over a team that had humiliated the Broncos 45-7 just four weeks ago in the season opener.

Kroner, 25, a University of Wisconsin graduate, was 10th best scorer in the league last season on the strength of his points after touchdown, but until Sunday he had never kicked a field goal longer than 37 yards.

In other AFL games, San Diego crushed Miami 44-10, New York and Boston fought to a 24-24 tie and Buffalo took Kansas City 29-14.

For the losing Oilers, George Blanda threw five touchdown passes, three to Charley Frazier, but they weren't enough to offset Kroner's kicking, a 100-yard kickoff return by Goldie Sellers and John McCormick's passing.

Steve Tensi came off the bench in the second half for San Diego and rifled four touchdown passes. The winless Dolphins had led the Western Division leaders 10-6 at the half, but Tensi's passing and 28 last-quarter points won for the Chargers.

Joe Namath came up with two scoring passes in the final period and Jim Turner kicked a field goal with 32 seconds left as the unbeaten Jets had to scramble for a tie. The Patriots had taken a 21-7 lead in the second half.

Getting Over a Plague of Bees

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — This central Florida city is getting over a plague of bees in the business district, it hopes.

A hive dropped off a truck recently and its occupants swarmed on a Broadway sidewalk. Police called beekeeper Collie Summerlin to bring a new hive and a queen bee to lure the buzzing squatters into it.

Bachelor Derby Staged in France

ESPARROS, France (AP) — The bachelor derby staged by the lonely males of Esparros brought a lot of attention to the village but little lasting sentiment.

Faced by a dismal shortage of eligible marriage partners, the bachelors of Esparros decided to hold an open house May 29. Single girls, widows and other unattached women were invited to look over the supply of marriage-hungry males—and to line up for inspection themselves.

When the day arrived, thousands of curious visitors flocked to Esparros and neighboring villages facing the same problem, high in the Pyrenees.

The advance planning broke down. The bachelors were supposed to wear an armband. The interested girls were supposed to wear a numbered white boutonniere. In the picknicking crowds, few of the lonely heart signals were sighted.

Charles Duthu, mayor of Esparros, reports there has been a sign of romantic upturn, however. Two weeks ago he performed a marriage for Francis Pommerie and Elise Marcuillat — the first in Esparros in 10 years.

Unfortunately, Pommerie and his bride have no plans to live in Esparros. Pommerie is an army career man and is stationed in Dax.

BROADWAY FAMILIARS TO DO LONDON PLAY

LONDON (AP) — Two Broadway familiarities, Rex Evans and Peter Roman, have been chosen to stage a new American play in the London production of "The Bird Song."

The new production is being presented at the Queen's Theatre with a cast of British, American, French, German, and Danish actors.

Marines in Battle Over Wide Front

By JOHN LENGEL

Near The Demilitarized Zone, Viet Nam (AP) — For 11 days U.S. Marines dashed up 30-degree rises along a spiny mountain 5,000 yards south of the demilitarized zone trying to take an elaborate system of bunkers stretching four miles along the ridge.

Artillery, hours of pounding by B52s and other aircraft, and napalm had damaged only small portions of the bunker system, which Marine intelligence officers believe housed at least a battalion guarding key infiltration and supply trails.

Kilo Company of the 3rd Battalion, 4th Marine Regiment was the first to slog up the trail and be hit by withering fire from the bunkers. After two days, Kilo claimed 48 enemy dead.

On Friday, India Company moved up, the lead men hacking through vines and bamboo.

The company crashed through the brush single file. They passed 21 empty bunkers, lying cool under the buzzing heat. The enemy had quietly drawn back, it seemed. In between the bunkers, the North Vietnamese had cut steps in the ground and put up hand rails along the steeper stretches.

After walking four hours, India Company entered a bombed out clearing. The lead man walked past a bunker. The bunker spouted machine-gun fire on the ranks of Marines.

"I dropped two snipers, I think, with my rifle, then our machine guns opened up. They didn't expect our lead men to have machine guns," said 2nd Lt. Jim Hallman of Bloomfield, N.J.

Hallman kept fighting though shrapnel had torn his right cheek and a bullet had pierced his left ear.

"Another (sniper) jumped out of a spider hole and shot one of my men in the chest and tried to drag the body in with him," said Sgt. Randolph Fascett of Sacramento, Calif.

The North Vietnamese threw more grenades and increased the machine-gun fire. India Company withdrew, drawing more fire on its flank from below the ridge. The battalion dug in for

Spokesmen for Press Raps U. S. Bar

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Three leading press spokesmen have roundly criticized proposals by an American Bar Association study group that limits the role of what police and lawyers may say publicly about pending criminal cases.

The report, prepared by 10 prominent judges and lawyers, "represents a serious, if unintentional assault on freedom of the press, and also the constitutional guarantee of free speech," said Robert C. Notson and J. Edward Murray of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Notson, Portland, Ore., executive editor of the Oregonian, is president of the society. Murray, Phoenix, Ariz., managing editor of the Arizona Republic, is chairman of the society's Freedom of Information and Bar-Press Committee.

Objections also were voiced by D. Tennant Bryn, chairman of the Committee on Free Press and Fair Trial of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

"An over-zealous concern for the rights of defendants in criminal cases ought not to be allowed to deprive the public of truthful information which the public needs pertaining to crimes and criminals in our society in the light of growing problems of law enforcement at the local, state and national level," Bryn said.

Notson and Murray joined in a statement issued in Portland. Bryn, publisher of the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch and News-Leader, issued his statement in Richmond.

The ABA study group described its recommendations, which followed a 20-month study, as tentative and designed "for consideration and discussion."

The study group, headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, said the canons of legal ethics should be revised to limit what prosecutors and defense lawyers may say publicly about a suspect, witnesses and evidence from the time of arrest until completion of trial.

Similarly, it recommended that all criminal courts adopt rules to limit release of information by police and law enforcement agencies.

The study group recommended that violators be made subject to contempt of court procedures and, in the case of lawyers, "in more serious cases," to disbarment.

The night.

Helicopters could not land in the battalion's heavily mined landing zone and 10 of the wounded up in the hospital came crashing down 20 feet from the helicopters.

There was no water for 24 hours. As dawn broke Sunday, some Marines were sipping bamboo to suck out a precious few ounces of juice.

Crisis Shapes Over Defense of Europe

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
LONDON (AP) — A crisis in shaping up for the West over the defense of Europe and West Germany's role in it. A serious related developments threaten the withdrawal of Allied forces from the heartland of the Continent.

In the view of British authorities, this could bring instability to West Germany where Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government already is in difficulties. Also could eventually shift West German policies closer to those of President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Senior officials in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's administration are looking to President Johnson, who has called for a "early American, British, and West German reappraisal" of the alliance, the force needed to meet it, and ways financing the Allied effort.

The British are stressing a reservation about Johnson's proposal.

They fear smaller member states of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization may see as a substitute for those organs of the alliance such as Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe, SHAPE.

Wilson has advised the President of British readiness to take part in the three-power talks precise American proposal awaited on the time, place, scope for them.

Among difficulties facing NATO are these factors:

The British insist they will back their 51,000-strong Rhine army by 1967 unless the West Germans supply the whole $3 million foreign exchange cost maintaining that force. That does not mean Bonn pay Britain's bills, but arrange somehow for the British to earn enough money in Germany to ease the strain on foreign resources. The German far have declined to offset more than 40 per cent of bill. If this is their final word, the British vow the Rhine will be cut so that it uses up more than $100 million German marks a year.

Such a British cutback would weaken NATO's trans-European barriers. Its political off could be far-reaching.

As Allied diplomats see such an action would add congressional pressures in United States to reduce the 3,000 to 450,000 American servicemen in Europe.

Officially the Johnson administration has set its face against reductions at this time.

The Peck Order: Ancient Rule of Animal Kingdom

The paradox of the 20th Century may well be this: That while we assume democracy to be the natural way of life and dictatorship an intruder, the behavior of the animal kingdom suggests the opposite — that dictatorship is the natural way of life and democracy the intruder.

I am equating the word "dictatorship" with "rule of force." It is universal in the animal kingdom, being known among poultrymen as "The Peck Order."

My personal observation of The Peck Order is this:

In the miniature game preserve I keep behind my house there are two native white geese, two Canadian Honkers, and 21 Mallard ducks. At feeding time I learn what the scientists are talking about.

The native white geese eat first. Then the Canadian Honkers — and the Mallards last. Anyone who breaks from his place in the chow line gets a tail-feather jerked out.

If a Honker happens to be in the feeding cage first and the larger native geese come in, the Honker bows out gracefully before the gathering storm. If the smaller Mallards are in there first and any of the big birds appear the ducks panic and rush out as though the premises were on fire.

But of course, the geese are bigger than the ducks, you say. But that isn't the whole story. The Mallards are all about the same size, yet they too have a definite Peck Order — certain ducks eat first, others take the second and third tables.

But what application does this have to men, you ask? We, too, belong to the animal kingdom, but civilized government should enable us to rise above the tyranny of the Peck Order — what with all our laws and enforcement agencies and the other trappings of government.

What we learn from the animal kingdom is merely a warning. Government is only a thin veneer over the natural instincts of the animal kingdom. The Peck Order is ever with us. It may appear to be constrained by law, but then asserts itself by breaking down enforcement.

The moral is as obvious as the lesson: Democracy may be a way of life, but it is not natural law and it can be maintained only as long as men really cherish it and are willing to fight for it.

Promises to Sue Cherokee Village Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jerry Thomason, the Republican candidate for attorney general, says if elected he will sue the operators of Cherokee Village development Co., to recover the funds spent on two roads. The operators are John Cooper, treasurer of the Democratic Party and president of the firm, and Joe Basore, Democratic Party campaign manager, vice president of the firm and Cooper's son-in-law.

Thomason made the promise at a news conference Saturday where he charged "political hucksters" in the building of a road through Bella Vista Village in Benton County. The village was developed by Cooper's firm.

Thomason made the same charge Wednesday about a road that was built through Cherokee Village, another resort and recreation area developed by Cooper.

Both Basore and Cooper denied the charges, and Basore issued a statement Saturday saying no laws nor ethics are violated "and certainly no funds were hidden."

The road in Bella Vista consists of 8.75 miles running east from west from Arkansas 94 to Arkansas 279, intersection U.S.

Fat Steer Sale Was Successful

The fat steer sale held on Friday of last week was successful said Calvin J. Caldwell, County agent. Seven local businesses bought the six steers from youngsters that had shown the steers in the Third district Livestock Show.

The sale was as follows: The First National Bank gave $181.50 for a 605 pound steer owned by Ricky Barton of Antonio; Ralph Montgomery gave $159.00 for another steer weighing 530 pounds from the same owner; Perry's Truck Stop purchased a steer weighing 650 pounds from Billy Rowe of Emerson for $214.50; Hope Livestock Commission bought a 925 pound steer from Joey Barnhill, Jr. of DeQueen for $268.25; The Citizens National Bank gave $256.65 for a 885 pound calf owned by Chuck Barnhill of DeQueen; and the Trading Post and Harold Hendrix Pulpwood bought Chuck Barnhill's other steer which weighed 1055 lbs. for $305.95.

Ray Turner, Travis Ward, Arch Wylie, and Dwight Davis acted as a committee for the sale. Ray Lawrence was the auctioneer for the calf sale.

Electrically Powered Auto May Return

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported today it has achieved a major breakthrough by developing a new type battery which could pave the way for return of the electric-powered auto to U. S. highways.

Michael Ference Jr., Ford vice president for scientific research said the new battery could store up to 15 times as much energy as present lead-acid storage batteries.

The firm disclosed Sept. 15 that it was working on the electric car project.

Ference said in a prepared statement that Ford Motor Co. and Ford of England have joined forces to build two prototype models of the proposed electric car.

The two companies described the new product, the first experimental model of which is being built in England now, as "a low-cost, subcompact limited performance 'city car' to carry two adults and two passengers."

The first two cars, one designed for testing in England and the other in metropolitan suburban areas of the United States, will be powered initially by lead-acid batteries, such as those now used in cars.

Ference said Ford has developed a new type sodium-sulfur battery, which is still in its early stages.

He added, "It promises to meet the over-all needs of an efficient, low-cost, compact, urban-suburban electric vehicle requiring only overnight recharging."

Ference estimated that the electric car, powered by the new battery, would have a range of 150 miles at 40-miles-an-hour speed.

Inez Seems to Be Picking Up Intensity

MIAMI, Inez a brawling killer of the tropics brushed harmlessly past the southeast Florida coast today and roared on with growing new fury into the resort islands of the British Bahamas.

Gale warnings came down in Miami as Inez roared past to eastward, flicking the city with gusty winds and squalls, but a tornado snaking out of the storm's leading edge brought death to the Bahamas.

The twister lashed a group of shacks occupied by field hands outside the Bahamian capital of Nassau, killing a 16-months old child. Three other persons are missing.

Inez was 80 miles west of Nassau, but water already had risen two feet deep in some streets and flattened palm trees blocked roads. A gust of 100 miles an hour battered the airport area.

The 2.5 million people of the southeast Florida coast from Palm Beach to Miami spent an uneasy Sunday as Inez sent occasional squalls whistling into the area, whipping the palm fronds.

But, as her winds built back up toward 100 miles an hour after a weakening battle with the mountains of Cuba, Inez veered slightly to the east on a new track that appeared to take the lower Florida coast out of danger.

Inez was more than 100 miles east southeast of Miami and the Weather Bureau lowered gale warnings along the southeast Florida coast.

The U.S. Missile Tracking Station on Grand Bahama was tightly buttoned up. Most of the new resort hotels and industrial plants enticed to the Bahamas by a tax break followed suite.

Inez, only a shadow of the storm that was believed to have killed hundreds in three Caribbean countries, was making probably her last swipe at land.

A fence of atmospheric conditions was pushing her away from the U.S. mainland and the warm gulfstream. Once she gets into the colder latitudes of the Atlantic, she will wither away.

Fulbright Fears More Involvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Sunday that United States involvement in Thailand could result in another Viet Nam.

Fulbright said in a television interview that he deeply regretted this nation's involvement in Thailand by sending in "hundreds of millions of dollars" and "over 30,000 troops."

He reiterated previous statements that the continued escalation of the Viet Nam War could only result in war with Red China and possibly another World War.

Fulbright said he considered it his duty to criticize the administration policies of President Johnson.

"And yet," he said, "you're made to feel in some way you're a traitor."

Fulbright said the United States should seek a Viet Nam settlement in the United Nations and withdraw opposition to the admission of Red China to the United Nations.

He appeared on an NBC television program entitled "The Fulbright Position."

The Arkansas senator also lashed out at newspapers, saying most of those in the nation have become "servile" to the government and "bloodthirsty" about the war in Viet Nam.

GE Workers Ignore Plea, Leave Jobs

By DICK BARNES
WASHINGTON (AP) — At least 14,800 union employees of the General Electric Corp. walked off their jobs at three plants today. But a nationwide strike against the huge defense supplier appeared to have been averted by a presidential plea.

President Johnson asked the company and unions to maintain plant operations while negotiations continued, contending a strike would damage the Viet Nam war effort.

About 13,300 workers walked off their jobs at GE's Schenectady, N.Y., plant, some 1,100 employees struck the firm's Carbonyl Products Division at Warren, Mich., and 400 union draftsmen struck the GE plant at Pittsfield, Mass. Union spokesmen said these walkouts involved local issues.

The remaining 105,200 union employees apparently were honoring the President's plea for a two-week postponement in a nationwide walkout which had been scheduled for 12:01 a.m. today, when their contracts expired.

Three Cabinet members, including Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, are joining negotiations that shift today to Washington after stalemating Sunday in New York.

Talks are to begin at 2 p.m. EDT.

A nationwide strike had appeared imminent when the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers rejected the key defense supplier's latest offer Sumbathor unions representing 40,000 GE employees had been expected to follow the lead of the 80,000 IUE workers.

But Johnson asked the company and unions to continue plant operations, saying "our men in Viet Nam need these planes, these helicopters, these weapons."

Injunction to Ban Picketing Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court dismissed today an injunction prohibiting the Hodecarriers Local 1282 from picketing the construction site of the White County Hospital at Searcy.

The injunction was issued by White Chancery Court on petition from the Cone-Huddleston Co., contractor on the job. Picket lines were set up late last year after the company refused to negotiate a contract with the union.

The union appealed, contending that the chancery court was without jurisdiction and that the case should have gone before the National Labor Relations Board.

The Supreme Court agreed, ruling that the state court should not have acted until the NLRB had reviewed the case.

In other cases decided today the Supreme Court:

Affirmed a five-year prison sentence given Johnnie Paul Shipp on conviction as an accessory in the $9,000 robbery of the Joiner Branch of the First National Bank of Osceola on Feb. 8, 1965.

Upheld a decision of Boone Circuit Court which had voided a change of boundaries between the Harrison School District and the Bergman School District. The boundary change involved about $52,000 worth of taxable property and eight students.

Ordered a new trial of a White County case in which Robert B. Reno and J. C. Stark were convicted of fraud in the homebuilding business on grounds that the state had failed to prove intent to defraud and the defendants' inexperience might have led to the drawing of improvident contracts.

Upheld a Pulaski Circuit Court ruling that the confession of James S. Nelson to a robbery charge was voluntary and affirmed Nelson's 12-year prison sentence.

U. S. Court Opens New Term, Several Key Issues Docketed

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — With tradition-dictated ceremony the Supreme Court opens its new term today — and starts down the road toward what will be its busiest year.

As the nine black-robed justices troop to the bench through parted, long maroon drapes, they already face a record-high docket approaching 1,500 cases. Included are deeply controversial puzzles on eavesdropping, privacy, church-state relations, obscenity and civil rights.

But, as is customary, the opening session is brief, without announcements of any decisions.

Then lawyers are admitted to practice before the Supreme Court — and the justices adjourn to a week-long series of conferences to decide whether they will hear hundreds of appeals filed during the summer.

Next Monday the court will begin handing down its rulings.

This is Earl Warren's 14th year as chief of justice and the 176th year in court history. Warren is 75.

The associate justices in order of seniority are: Hugo L. Black, 80; William O. Douglas, 68 on Oct. 16; Tom C. Clark, 67; John M. Harlan, 67; William J. Brennan Jr., 60; Potter Stewart, 51; Byron R. White, 49, and Abe Fortas, 56.

The problems they are being asked to weigh this year include:

Can the state of Virginia forbid marriage between the races?

Can the Iowa Supreme Court take a child from his "bohemian" father and award him to more "conventional" grandparents?

Is the death penalty constitutional?

Even can a college insist that students shave their beards and get haircuts?

Gift Made to Washington Foundation

The latest gift to Pioneer Washington Foundation is "Diane," an eighteen inch porcelain doll, fashioned by Mrs. Richard H. Shively, the former Margaret Briggs, and sister of Mrs. Walter Carter of Hope. Mrs. Shively now lives in Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Wade Crabtree of Franklin, Ohio, dressed Diane in authentic Civil War period. The elegant Chickering piano in the gold parlor of the Garland House is a perfect foil for the exquisite gree brocade taffeta of Diane's gown.

The doll will be on display to the public for the first time when the Garland House is opened during the third annual antique show.

The dates for the show are October 7, 8, and 9. At this time visitors will have the opportunity to view and buy genuine antiques, as well as visit other places of interest in historical Washington.

Troops Catch and Kill 117 of the Enemy

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Helicopter-hopping U.S. troops pounced on a fleeing Communist force today and reported killing 117 more of the enemy in mountains near South Viet Nam's central coast.

The added dead raised to 227 the two-day toll taken by units of the 1st Air Cavalry, Airmobile, Division which fought a furious battle Sunday with the Communists and reported 110 killed.

Reports from the battle area 30 miles north of the coastal city of Qui Nhon said the number of Communist dead was still climbing.

The Communist unit was a mixed force of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong.

Official U.S. sources said casualties among the chopper-lifted cavalrymen were light.

The battle began after the enemy shot down three U.S. helicopters, prompting the cavalrymen to charge the force of more than 300 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops. The helicopters were recovered.

The new fighting along the central coast shifted attention away from the prolonged fight by the U.S. Marines just south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

U.S. B52 bombers struck a little below the buffer zone today for the fourth straight day of raids inside or close to the zone.

The bombers rained explosives on North Vietnamese troop concentrations and infiltration routes 20 miles west of the Marines' forward headquarters at Dong Ha.

In the two months of fighting against the rebuilt 324th North Vietnamese division below the demilitarized zone, the Marines have reported killing 955 North Vietnamese and capturing and seizing 17 weapons. But some Leatherneck units have been hard hit.

It Very Often Pays Off To Save Your Old Junk

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It may be junk to you, but someone else it's a pile of useful material. Odds and ends of lumber left after the house was built, pieces of pipe, lengths of rope. Or if you have bought an old house, it is likely that cement, garage and attic are crammed with things out which the first impulse to throw them out. Resist impulse. Fight off your demands that everything be hauled out without making twice at any of it. If you don't resist, your next moment of regret will come when you pay the bill for the lumberyard for a piece of lumber that you could easily have salvaged from that pile of boards unheeded away in the attic. When it's too late. Obviously, you can't save odds and ends may be useful. Everything, nor should you. Junk needs sorting. Even if it's wise to live with it while until you know what there. It also needs proper sorting. Don't wait until you need those old gate hinges to mess up a door. Pull them out now, clean them, and store them away. In a building where they call these antique hinges and you pay a premium for them.

not store it where there might be danger of fire. There should be ventilation. A few strips of lumber nailed across the rafters under the garage roof will serve as a support to store all the longer pieces.

Don't ignore special cuts of lumber—siding, flooring, molding and such. Sometimes these need replacing and only a small piece is needed. If you tried to buy it you would discover that you had to buy a full length.

What about an old shed that is being torn down? Most of the lumber will be usable. Sort it, clean it up and store it. It could make attractive, weathered paneling in a remodeling project.

Fence, chicken wire and sometimes screening are bought by the roll and generally there's a length left over. Save it. If you need a piece, it will save your having to buy a whole roll. Chicken wire is great around the garden to keep out small animals and around young trees to keep them from chewing the bark. Extra screening is good for repairs and can be used to sift top soil.

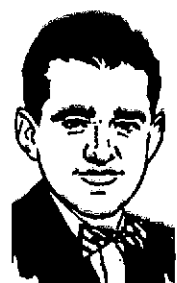

Save Old Frames

Old storm doors and window frames may seem useless but they are not. Make a framework of lumber and set it on the ground, put the door or window on top and you have a cold frame. Or prop the window or door against the house and use plastic on the sides.

Pipes may look rusty but they may be sound. Throw away badly bent lengths and save the rest. Even if you don't need it for plumbing, consider how useful a piece of pipe is as a brace for a young tree.

A partial package of roof shingles should not be discarded. You never know when

Ann Sheridan
Sharpens Quill

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) Hollywood is as rumor-prone as any other place. And, at this time of year in the television factories, rumors fly as thick as tsetse flies at an African picnic.

I was visiting the set of Run, Buddy, Run when the shooting was interrupted. Daniel Melnick, one of the executive producers, made a short speech. The show was taking a two-week vacation and Melnick said he knew there were rumors that this was just the start of a permanent halt.

He wanted to set the crews' minds at ease, he said. It was just a vacation, nothing more. They were still confident that the show would be a hit. Perry Lafferty, CBS' head of West Coast television, put in an appearance to stress the same points.

Melnick, with the always-leave-'em-laughing philosophy, then added, "The last time I gave this speech was to the crew of The Cara Williams Show." It was the wrong thing to say.

"I better get my lip in shape," said the show's star, Jack Sheldon, an expert trumpet player.

When Melnick and Lafferty had left, the crew wheeled out a big blackboard. On it were the words, "Remember Cara."

If Pistols 'n' Petticoats doesn't make it, we may see the start of a new career for Ann Sheridan.

"If it's a hit," Ann said, as her standing, Margaret Furer, handed her a freshly lit cigarette, "I'll stick with it. But if it fails, I might like to try writing."

Ann says she looked for 12 years for a television format she could live with, until she found this new CBS show. She wanted a comedy even though her biggest film successes were melodramas.

"Comedies stand up better on TV than drama," she says. "I know I get bored with TV dramas. Nowadays, all I watch are the news, documentaries and travelogues."

I told Ann that I would write about her without mentioning that certain word. And I said it emphatically, too.

Shirley Bassey knocked them out at her opening at the Coconut Grove. She wore a low-cut, high-rise gown with bare shoulders and she showed the audience what singing should be. Nobody should ever try to top her version of "What Now, My Love?"

Among the audience shouting "Bravo" were Roddy McDowall, with Nancy Sinatra, Herb Ross and Natalie Wood, Eddie Fisher and Connie Stevens, Samantha Eggar (in a mini skirt) and others of Hollywood's expanding British colony.

A year ago, it was nervous time for Werner Klemperer and the others of CBS' Hogan's Heroes. Now they're proven success. They can relax and enjoy life, in the shade of their high ratings.

"One of the secrets of our success," Klemperer says, "is the chemistry between all of us. I've been a guest on so many shows where everybody hates everybody else. But we all respect each other."

Know Your Lumber

Lumber is tricky. First of all, save nothing that shows signs of rotting. Do not save pieces that are split or badly warped. Size is no criterion. Small piece of wood can be used for a wedge or brace. Off badly damaged ends. Nails. You will have to remove them eventually and while it will make the work safer and easier to do. Store it in an out of the way place that is dry. Do you may need one or two to repair the roof after a storm. That's the thing about most so-called junk — you never know.

Eyes With Wider Look

To make your eyes look bigger and wider, block out the outside corners with a light base. Eliminate putting mascara on the last four lashes of each eye. By stopping the eye-liner and mascara on those last lashes you open the eyes and give them a wider look.
